2016 Top Products

Kitchen & Bath Design News readers determine 2016's most-asked-about products.

Manufacturers continually introduce new kitchen and bath products to complement their existing lines. Oftentimes, designers first learn about those recently introduced as well as existing products via trade publications, including Kitchen & Bath Design News.

In each issue throughout the year, the magazine highlights everything from cabinetry and countertops to appliances, hardware, plumbing fixtures and more. At the end of the year, KBDN showcases the products that generated the greatest amount of interest, as determined by tallying reader requests throughout the year.

This year, glass surfaces saw plenty of interest, claiming two of the top 10 spots and four of the top 20, while organizational products also garnered attention, including everything from storage solutions to in-drawer outlets that minimize counter clutter.

Bath products made a big splash as well, claiming three of the top 10 spots, as well as four more in the top 20. And, if you consider additional space-neutral products, such as countertops; other surfacing materials including recycled glass and tile; lighting; storage and clutter containment, and vacuum and ventilation systems, baths seem to be top of mind.

On this and the following four pages, Kitchen & Bath Design News looks at the 20 most-asked-about products of 2016, decided by you, our KBDN readers. ■

20 (TIE) MEDICINE CABINET MIRROR FRAMES

In addition to frames for wall-mounted, plate glass bathroom mirrors, MirrorMate now has frames for medicine cabinets. MirrorMate offers a selection of over 65 frame styles, ranging from contemporary silver frames to traditional woods. The MDF frames fit atop both recessed and wall-mounted medicine cabinets, and are custom cut to fit the homeowner's specific medicine cabinet dimensions and method of mounting.
